

Below is a message from the PCANY QA team.

Hello HFNY! You might have seen in Allison's weekly emails that our PCANY Transfer of Learning (TOL) materials for the Family Support Specialist and Family Resource Specialist roles have been updated and migrated to our newly created Transfer of Learning Website! We just wanted to share some additional details with you so that each and every one of you will have access to the materials:

The website includes activities that will promote 9 different Essential Skills associated with both the FSS and FRS roles. The activities also encourage deeper discussion with your Supervisor once you've completed them so you can process your responses. We have also included "Knowledge Builders," additional learning tools such as webinars and videos related to each skill to promote deeper learning.

Here's the link to the site. When you click the link, you will be prompted to sign up using your work email and a password that you create. On the "About" page of the site you will find a video tutorial that explains how to use the materials.

There is a self-assessment on the "About" page that you can complete in order to determine what skills you might want to prioritize working on first. We encourage you to share your self-assessments with your Supervisors so your professional development can be a collaborative process.

This site will be ever evolving and materials will be added to support ongoing professional development. Please be sure to bookmark the site and revisit for any updates. The PCANY team would love to hear your feedback as you begin to use this.

Thank you, and please reach out to one of your PCANY QA Specialists with your comments and questions.

Best wishes for a safe and happy weekend.
Take care.
